The Werkplaats Typografie (WT) is a renowned international education institution focused on design and typography. Located in Arnhem, The Netherlands, the WT offers an M.A. programme in Design that encourages students to explore the boundaries of design through conceptualisation, production, publishing, and international events. This curriculum is underpinned by central course components: Structures; Encounters; and Questions of Power and Identity. The programme's architecture is formed by three main curriculum elements, each contributing to the development of a well-informed and critical designer.

Admission Requirements

Interested students are welcome to visit the WT for an open house. Applications can be submitted through Studielink, a platform for Dutch Education. The programme starts mid-September, and the application deadline is 1 May 2023. For further details and scholarship matters related to the programme, please visit the official website (https://www.artez.nl/en/courses/master/werkplaats-typografie).

Student Contribution

Each student is expected to bring their own computer, regardless of which scholar they are. In Arnhem, available equipment includes a digital camera, a laser mouse, a projector, sound recorder, and professional software via ArtEZ (including a subscription for Adobe Creative Cloud, etc.). Each WT studio offers software via ArtEZ (including a subscription for Adobe Creative Cloud, etc.). Each WT participant is expected to bring their own computer.

Scholarships

Non-EU/EEA students may apply for scholarships from The ArtEZ Scholarship Fund. This contribution needs to be paid in two instalments, partly covers usage of WT facilities, materials, projects, and research. Apart from the mentioned legal tuition fees, participants may need to expect more additional expenses.
